

Snapshots from inner cities of India – Bhopal and Bangalore; Copyright: Department of Urban Design and Planning, NTNU

4. -6. October

URBAN INDIA

CONFERENCE organised by the Faculty of Architecture and Fine Arts, Department of Urban Design and Planning during the INDIA WEEK, 2011

www.ntnu.no/ab/india2011

 NTNU
Det skapende universitet

HYDRO

Indias ambassade i Norge

Norges ambassade i India

Forskningsrådet

Trondheim kommune

SØR-TRØNDELAG FYLKESKOMMUNE

Torstein Erbos gavefond

RIKS KONCERTENE

PROGRAM

4. -6. October

Day 1: Popular Lecture series: Rising from the ashes: Being prepared and rebuilding after disaster

4th October, 2011, Rådhusalen, Trondheim Folkebibliotek

1900 - 1930: Facing Disasters: The strength of local knowledge in risk reduction in India
Rohit Jigyasu, UNESCO Chair Professor, Ritsumeikan University, Kyoto

1945 - 2015: Bhopal : Emerging from the shadows of disaster
Amritha Ballal, architect and Hans Christie Bjønness, Professor, NTNU

Day 2 and 3: URBAN INDIA Conference

5th October, 2011, Rådsalen, Gløshaugen Campus, NTNU

0900 – 0915: Opening of the conference by the Vice Chancellor Torbjørn Digernes

0915 – 1200: Keynote addresses

0915 – 1000: Innovations in Urban Management in the Developing World

Dinesh Mehta, Professor Emeritus at CEPT, Ahmedabad, India and Former Head of the Urban Management Programme at UNHabitat, Nairobi

1030 – 1115: Sustainable future of mega cities: Example of Master Planning for Delhi

P.V. Mahashabdey, Additional Commissioner (Planning), Delhi Development Authority

1300 – 1545: Thematic Session 1: Re-imagining the Indian city in a global era

1300 – 1320: A new image for modern urban India: Postcolonial and the post global Chandigarh
Rohit Jigyasu, UNESCO Chair Professor, Ritsumeikan University, Kyoto

1320 – 1340: Using the city for accessing the global economy: Lessons from Bangalore, India's cyber city
Rolee Aranya, Associate Professor, NTNU

1340 – 1400: Space Matters: Planning for emerging urbanisms

Moulshri Joshi, architect and Suditya Sinha, architect, SPACE MATTERS

1400 – 1420: Planning FOR and BY the People: Democratic Decentralisation and the Struggle for People's Planning in India

Antarin Chakrabarty, Design Department, Ambuja Realty Development Limited, Kolkata.

1445 – 1545: Panel discussion and comments from the audience

6th October, Rådsalen, Gløshaugen Campus, NTNU

0915 – 1230: Thematic Session 2: Planning for inclusiveness and spatial justice

Keynote addresses

0915 – 1000: Re-humanizing Cities: Changing the Urban Design Discourse

Renu Khosla, Director, Centre for Urban and Regional Excellence, Delhi

1000 – 1045: Spatially just planning: Is it possible in the present structural context?

Ashok Kumar, Professor and Head of Department, Department of Physical Planning, School of Planning and Architecture, New Delhi

1045 – 1130: Emerging Urban India: Challenges and Prospects, Focus on Land & Inclusive Planning Issues

Bijayanand Misra, Professor Emeritus, School of Planning and Architecture (SPA), New Delhi

1130 – 1230: Comments by the Chair and Panel Discussion

1330 – 1500: Epilogue and Valedictory Session

1330 – 1400: Wisdom and learning from Urban India: Twenty years of cooperation with School of Planning and Architecture Faculty and students

Hans Christie Bjønness, Professor, NTNU

Day 4: Research Workshop: INDIAN URBAN FUTURES (by invitation only)

To register please send email by 23.09.11 to: urbanindia@ab.ntnu.no

Conference organized in cooperation with: NTNU Globalization Research Programme; India 2011 NTNU; Research Council of Norway INDNOR

www.ntnu.no/ab/india2011

 NTNU
Det skapende universitet