Make your mark
NTNU is Norway's most innovative, exciting and largest university. 1718

NTNU's main focus is in science and technology, with great academic breadth that includes the humanities, social sciences, economics, medicine, health sciences, educational science, architecture, entrepreneurship, art disciplines and artistic activities.

With 39,000 students studying a range of disciplines, NTNU buzzes with the intellectual energy of people pursuing their dreams. Whether your passion is ship design or medical research, virtual reality or urban renewal in China, NTNU has something for you.

NTNU is an international university, with over 3,000 international students and worldwide cooperation with hundreds of universities in both research and education.

NTNU's research is cutting edge, and many of the technological and cultural innovations that allow Norway to extract oil from the North Sea, farm salmon in fish farms, or interpret the country's 9,000 years of human history, have been developed here. In fact, the university itself, founded in 1910, has contributed a solid century of academic achievements and discoveries that have shaped Norwegian society.

In 2014 NTNU Professors May-Britt Moser and Edvard Moser were awarded the 2014 Nobel Prize in Physiology/Medicine.

Trondheim is well-known as a top location for students and academics, and it is regularly rated as the best student city in Norway.

Out of the total population of 190,000, 33,000 are university students who make the city buzz with life. More than 200 student organizations offer all kinds of activities. Studentersamfundet, the Students’ Association, is the base for many of them.

Every two years, students organize UKA, Norway’s largest cultural festival. Students in Trondheim are also behind the International Student Festival in Trondheim, ISFIT – the largest of its kind in the world.

Trondheim has the perfect mix of urban life and scenic surroundings. In the summer months you can fish for salmon in the river, right in the middle of town. Great hiking and ski trails are just a short tram-ride away.

Academic quality with pulsating student life – that is Trondheim in a nutshell.
Gjøvik

Gjøvik has about 30 000 inhabitants and is a town known for its rich music and cultural life. The beautiful nature surrounding the city is ideal for an active outdoor life. Gjøvik is located in the heart of Norway, only 140 km from Oslo, and this location provides endless possibilities.

As a student at NTNU in Gjøvik you become part of a vibrant and active study environment. At Gjøvik, it is easy to get to know people, and to get in close contact with lecturers and research communities.

Ålesund

Ålesund is located on the west coast and has about 43 000 inhabitants. Studying in Ålesund will provide you with plenty of opportunities to explore a region of Norway that is famous for its beautiful scenery with high mountains and blue fjords. Ålesund itself, with its Art Nouveau architecture, is by many considered to be the most beautiful city in Norway.

NTNU in Ålesund has close links with local companies when it comes to development, research and student projects. With its 2 200 students, the student community in Ålesund is tight-knit and welcoming.
