Answer one of the two questions

Question 1
Discuss the content of a geographical perspective on health and disease.
Take theoretical and methodological approaches into consideration.
Briefly discuss some examples of empirical studies illustrating geographical inequalities of health and disease.
You are invited to apply examples from both high income and low income countries.

or

Question 2
Discuss how ‘place’ may influence health (which could both be ill-health and positive health). To what extent could ‘place’ be confounded or interact with other factors or conditions influencing health?
Choose examples from low and high income countries.