Invitation

After a long time of uncertainty and one year of delay it is a pleasure to invite you to come to Trondheim for the 11th BCRRA Conference. The conference will be a traditional physical (in-person) conference with interesting presentations, and it will provide an opportunity to meet and discuss with old friends and colleagues as well as to make new connections.

Papers

We have accepted around 150 papers from 31 countries. Some papers are already published and available on-line in volume 1 of the proceedings, and the rest will be published in Volumes 2 and 3 which will be ready for the conference.

Covid

The covid situation in Norway is under control and no restrictions that can influence the conference are in place. If nothing surprising happens, covid should not be a problem for the conference. We will still recommend vaccinations and health insurance before travelling and to check governmental travelling advice.

Registration

Please take a moment to register your participation at the conference web-page bcrra.org before 20th of April to qualify for the early-bird reduced registration fee (6,875.00 inclusive VAT).

The conference fee will cover:
