

Taxonomical updates in The Scorpion Files for Diplocentridae (2008 →)

August 2019: The family Diplocentridae was included as a subfamily (Diplocentrinae) in Scorpionidae by Fet & Soleglad in 2005. In the last years, several publications have provided support for the family status of Diplocentridae. Based on these and the advice from scorpion taxonomists that regularly comments and advices me on The Scorpion Files, I have decided to implement Diplocentridae as a family in The Scorpion Files. Hopefully, future studies will clarify the status of other scorpion families and their relations and that a consensus can be achieved for higher scorpion taxonomy.
